Getting started with Influx:

Asana Rebel experienced massive growth in 2020. As people explored innovative ways to work out at home, the shift towards personal home-based app-driven gyms saw their inbox volume grow from around 1,000 tickets to over 8,000 tickets a month. Company co-founder Pascal Klein was looking for a support partner to provide weekend support in English as an extension to the internal customer service team.

Today, the 8-person dedicated agent team provides 100% of Asana Rebel’s customer support across all customer-facing channels, including in-app support, Zendesk, Recurly, Google Play Console, CMS, App Follow, and Stripe in six different languages. The customer support team is also responsible for bug reporting and app feedback reporting to the development team.
