Getting started with Influx:

Full Focus was experiencing an increase in volume that their internal team was struggling to manage. With a growing US base and expansion into Europe, they found themselves with a growing backlog of tickets. The team came to Influx looking for a support partner that would help them keep up with growth. They needed a partner to operate as that extra layer working alongside their internal team to help manage ticket spikes and after-hour support volume.

Influx built a 24/7 extension of Full Focus’ existing customer service team with three dedicated agents and a layer of Support as a Service. The Influx team now has 8 agents delivering timely high-quality after-hours support that perfectly aligns with their brand voice and principles. The partnership continues to deliver a six out of seven CSAT score.
